DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment, filed 6/16/03, has been entered. Claims 1-23 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hartrick et al.

Hartrick et al. shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying details of the user profile such as storage, content and use in validation and except for the use of a time stamp.

Hartrick et al. Shows, figure 8, a data processing system. A publisher (central computer) has multiple books 70 and 72 (electronic publications which have different subject matter and form a library database which is searchable over the network at the user workstation). The individual chapters are available separately (discrete data units, text and graphics). There is a user profile 23. There is a request to the publisher for data (step 432). Data is transmitted based on validation (step 510). Data can be displayed at user's workstation. The network 49 can make use of the internet by hardwire or wireless.

The examiner takes Official Notice that user profiles can contain personal, educational (school), and financial information in order to provide a convenient information package for both the seller and the consumer.

Based on the discussion above, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Hartrick et al. system to specify financial (credit card information) and personal data (school) in the user profile for use in validation in order to provide a convenient information package for both the seller and the consumer.

The examiner takes Official Notice that the use of time stamps is old and well know in order to protect electronic data.

Based on the discussion above, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Hartrick et al. system to make use of a time stamp in order to protect the electronic data that it is transmitting.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3627

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
